

POETRY SLAM IN TBILISI!

near Valentine's Day 2007!

Short stories, blogs, poems, filmscripts, news articles, video journalism, and tramp journalism by Bryan Adrian ... follow this link

Georgian, American, and other poets will read from their own works of poetry, in addition to a large number of poetry and prose experts reading from the works of great famous poets, in the original languages and in translation also. THE CARAVAN is near the Public Library on Purtseladze Street, just behind Rustaveli Cinema. Every second or third poet after their performance will be followed by a musician. Average time for each poet and musician is about five to fifteen minutes. This nearly two hour event will be crowded with entertaining performances and a delicious array of talents [and in hindsight, it was!!]. For those who are hungry or thirsty, The Caravan has an attractive menu of drinks and food from which to order, covering the entire price range from 3 GEL cognacs/soft drinks, to very fine food and whiskeys.

POETS & PERFORMERS who attended: Amiran Svimonishvili [Paco]; Nino Burduli; Medea Zaalishvili; Mary Shengelia; Gia Chkonia [pianist]; Goga Shoshiashvili [guitarist]; George Pkhaladze [guitarist]; Kote Kubaneishvili; Dato Akriani; Gia Kobakhidze; Bryan Adrian; Givi Margvelashvili.....
